The First Chapter

WHERE TIME BEGINS

nother year begins at St. Andrews. New students cover the campus, moving into the residence halls and preparing themselves for a new part of their life.

Returning students are busy serving as orientation leaders, preparing for the start of fall sports, warming horses up for rider placement or practicing for the choir and bagpipe performances that come with Convocation. After the quiet days of the Carolina summer, the campus has come to life with the excitement of a new course schedule that each of us swears we'll do better in this time than last. The social calendar is filled with programs hosted by the Student Activities Union, Riding Council, Writers' Forum, Campus Crusade and many of the other active student organizations on campus. Students once again begin to find their niche along side each other as athletes, writers, roommates, leaders, historians, resident directors, philosophers, team captains, artists, equestrians, dreamers, scientists, teachers, musicians, photographers, travelers, counselors, lovers, readers, and even.....friends. Let these memories mark your experience at St. Andrews as one you'll never forget and always think upon fondly as time passes by.

STUDENT LIFE - WHERE TIME FLIES

ummer time ends and classes resume. There is hustle and bustle around campus. Everyone is exciting to see each other and begin a fresh semester.

St. Andrews may be a small dot on the map, but when the students are around it is anything but quiet. Students at St. Andrews are given the chance to do anything and everything. If your hearts desire doesn't already exist here, you're given the support and encouragement to make it happen! It's because of this that there is lots of coming and going from campus as athletic teams travel for competition, clubs take trips to ethics bowl competitions, student leaders go to activity trade shows, and upperclassman attend profession conferences for organizations such as NARHA. The on campus social scene still keeps everyone busy with long nights in Orange talking to your best friend or a complete stranger about everything from the attractive student across the courtyard to the test you failed yesterday. From random games of ultimate Frisbee to organized trips to the state fair, it all keeps time flying through the best years of your life.

CLUBS & ORGANIZATIONS

Here at St. Andrews there are so many opportunities to get involved it's impossible to do it all! There is a club for every interest you might have be it recreational, social, academic or leadership oriented. Each year there are new clubs and old favorites that keep the activities on campus rolling. Events such as the plant sales, intramurals, Winter Formal, Red Cross blood drives, Bible studies, the hypnotist, movie nights, and rider's auction are all events done by student organizations. The Lance, Gravity Hill, the chapbook contest, CAIRN and this yearbook are all publications that would not happen if it wasn't for the hard work of club students and advisors. So if you aren't already a club member, become one or you'll miss out on a whole another part of St. Andrews!

The reason we are here...to get an education through the strong offerings of St. Andrews academics. The goal is the same whether your major is forensic science or political science, sports management or business management, theatre arts or visual arts....graduate with a bachelors degree! When it's all said and done, chances are you've earned a lot more than just that. The experiences have gone way beyond the classroom to include conferences, workshops, presentations, tours, debates, case studies, internships, and much more. Sooner than you think it will all come together in a piece of paper with that prized word "graduate" to prove what all you've done. Taking it out into the world and demonstrating that it is unique and different than the others is now your task. Give it all you've got and make it all worth it!

STUDY ABROAD

athletics are a major element of the St. Andrews experience. The entire student body participates in at least one of the many Division II athletic teams available on campus either as a player, manager or spectator. For many playing at the college level has been a goal of theirs for many years while others may have just discovered the joy that comes with being a member of a close knit team. No matter how it happened, the St. Andrews athletic program has something for anyone who is interested in athletics. Many use the facilities for recreational and healthy purposes, including the weight room and pool. Taking in a game with your suite mates when the weather starts to turn warm in the spring is the very type of thing great memories are made of. The memories are even sweeter for the players on the field or court when the win that's been dreamed about and fought for finally becomes a reality. No matter what role you play, there is no doubt St. Andrews athletics are a part of life here. GO KNIGHTS!

EQUESTRIAN

Horses are a popular theme at St. Andrews, home to one of the country's largest college equestrian programs. Riders from multiple disciplines and backgrounds come here to pursue their passion. The ability to ride while studying is unique to our campus and does not go unnoticed. Here you can study anything you want and still take part in lessons, showing and equine specific coursework, even if you are not majoring in one of the equine themed majors. The network of friends that form around this lifestyle will stay with you even after you leave this place and you are certain to see them again in the small world that is the "horse world".

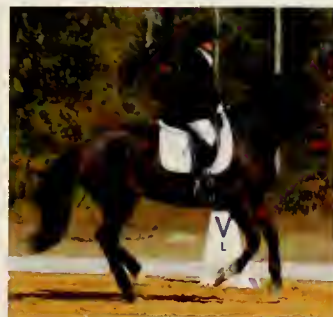

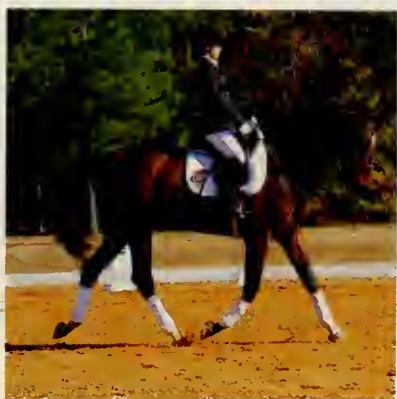

IHSA Hunt Seat Team

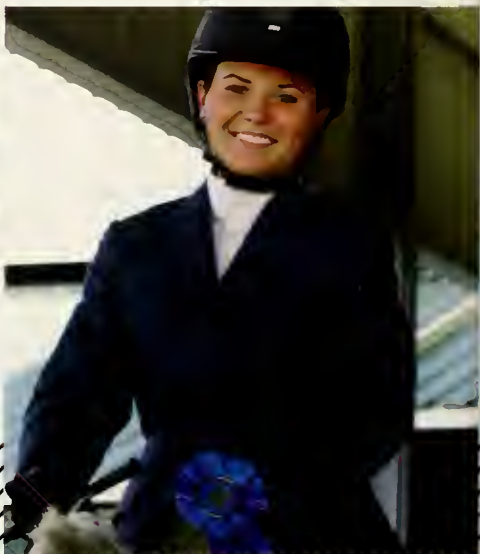

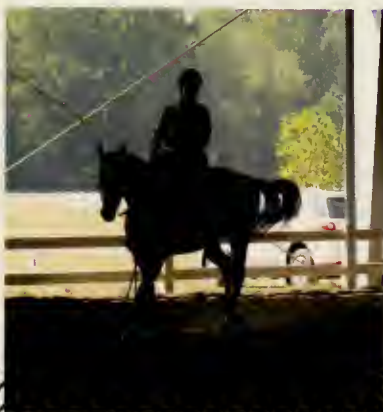

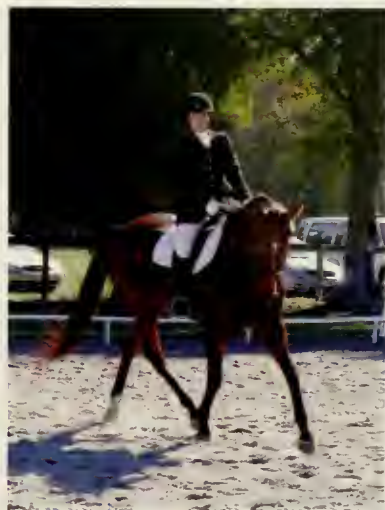

IHSA Western Team

IDA Team

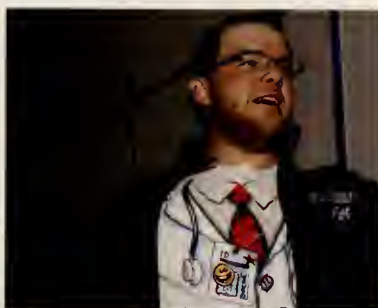

People are what make this place special, that is no secret. The students, faculty and staff all know what it means to be a part of the St. Andrews community and the dedication it takes to make sure the legacy continues through to the next group of students. Some of our people come from far away countries, some come from just down the street while many come from somewhere in between. They might stay and make Laurinburg their home or go back to their own hometowns or strike out to somewhere they've never been before. But no matter where they go, they are always part of the St. Andrews family and always know where to come back to if they want to feel a piece of "home".

Lamp & Shield

L*amp & Shield*, volume forty nine, was produced by the yearbook staff of St. Andrews Presbyterian College in Laurinburg, North Carolina and was printed by Herff Jones, Inc. in Charlotte, North Carolina. The account was serviced by representative Shannon Spaulding and Delores Sistare. The cover was designed using the Herff Jones Go! Design program. The one hundred page book was done in an all color concept. The Lamp & Shield was created on the Herff Jones eDesign software with layouts being submitted to the plant electronically. Photos not credited are the work of Rooney Coffman and photography staff. Two hundred and fifty copies were produced.
